THE Democracy are very fond of reform and reformers, when they can be used to demoralize the Republican party. They have no relish for these things when they manifest themselves In localities where the Democratic party is in the ascendancy. Thus in Chleago, some gentlemen being desirous of obtaining sundry offices of trust and profit, discovered that their party was corrupt, and suffered some "lewd fellows of the baser sort" to nominate them for the coveted offices as independent, or reform, candidates. The Times thus expresses its love for
